The able and zealous way in which H.M. representative at this port has executed his duties have obtained for him the promotion which was his just due, and we doubt not that in a port like Shaughai where tact and diplomacy are absolute requirements British interests, he will find scope to exercise the experience which he has reaped during his long stay in China. Hankow has of late been very quiet. The intense heat has compelled our scanty community to give up all amusement and to go through the summer months with as little exertion as possible. Farewell dinners have however, of late somewhat enlivened the general monotony; the proximate departure of our friends having afforded an opportunity to most, if not all, of our residents to display the hospitality which characterises our small circle. Without being guilty of partiality and drawing invidious comparisons. I must in fair justice avow that the feto given at the French Consulate carried the palm of success. It went off to say the least with grand éclat. The good wishes spoken by M. Huart for a speedy return to "notre ami M. RETURN OF GOVERNOR SIR GEORGE BOWEN FROM JAPAN.

On the afternoon of the 28th August, a few minutes after four o'clock a gun was fired to announce the incoming American mail, and shortly afterwards the Arabic, with the Colonial fing flying at the fore, steamed through the barbour to her moorings. Soonafter the gun was fired people began to collect at the Murray Pier, in spite of a stendy rain that was falling, to welcome H.E. Sir George Bowen back from his trip to Japan, or to witness his landing. A guard of honour from The Buffs, with the band of the regiment, was drawn up on the Cricket Ground, but shortly before five a message came from His Excallency to the effect that he would not be coming ashere till five, and intimating that the band and guard of His Excellency arrived at the pier in the launch Victoria, and amongst those who were then essembled to meet him were H.E. > The wind continued to blow strong from the north-east until about noon (24th Angust) when it shifted round to due east. At about sunset and when the full moon appeared above the Ta-tun-ta hill, the gusts of wind and rain came down the hillside and across the river like a tornado, snapping off branches of trees and bending supple young bamboo, willow, and other trees right down to the ground. Windows, doors, and venetians were torn open and had to be battened up. The wind carried the rain inside the tiles and caused no end of leaks. Towards 9 p.m. the wind seemed to get round to the S.S.E., and the rain became less continuous. It continued to blow strong all night from the S.S.E., however, and before daylight it came down the river in great force from the south. About 6 s.m. on, Tuesday the strength of the gale had passed over, and, after a few heavy showers and several feeble squalls, by 10 a.m. was over. 'A dull leaden sky now appears all round, and a stillness has ensued which contrasts forcibly with the hurly-burly of the previous thirty-six hours. The steam-launch Soon What or Soon Fat, belonging to the compradore Ah Soon, ran up to Kantao for safety, and is reported to have capsized. The launch To Ng Sing has gone after her. A junk capsized in the river close to Pia Tao, and went over the Bar. Eight men were

TWATUTIA, 23rd August. Early this morning the clouds westward seemed lowering, and there was a peculiar look about the sky generally, which seemed to portend storm. The barometer began to go down early in the day, and towards evening moved down by tenths rapidly, arriving at a point when, according to our high-set instrument, it never fails to indicate atyphoon. The wind blew fariously from the north-east during the night, and on the .. morning of the 24th the barometer kept dropping stoadily. The rain found out all the weak points in the roofs of foreign dwellings, and as the wind bore it in a horizontal direction, it was riven under the tiles of the best roofed houses and caused the ceilings to leak like sieves. At I a.m. on the 24th theriver began to rise rapidly. and by 1 p.m. the whole Green in front of the own, which is quite ten feet above the ordinary level of the river, was covered. steamer Sagami Maru will shortly leave Yokohama for Newcastle, with a crew for the Naniva Kan. She will return with a cargo of rails or dered by the Public Works Department, and will be navigated to England and back by Japanese officers only

We find the following amongst the Jepan Mail's translations from native papers :- When the tolograph system was first introduced to this country thirty-six foreigners were employed for the management of various affairs connected with the service, while at present only five remain on the list, all the others having been displaced by Japanese experts according as the system was extended. The Meiji Nippo (translated by the Japan Mail) says:- "A foreign firmat Yokohama, which has enjoyed the reputation of being one of the largest concerns ever established since the opening of the port, is about to be closed through extraordinary failures caused by the fall of silver: It is said that scores of mercantile houses in the vicinity of the Western hatobs will lose their ocoupation in consequence."

The funds subscribed by the foreign residents of Tokie and Yokohama -Germans exceptedfor the relief of the sufferers by the floods at Osaka amount to $3,485, and those by the German community to $465, both of which amounts have been forwarded to the Governor of Osaka. Through the exertions of Mr. Edgar Abbott and other charitable residents of Yokohama, a promenade concert in aid of the same object was gived on the 15th August, when the sum of $680.25 was

M. Blansoubé, the Deputy for Cochin-Chius, is expected at Saigon by the next mail. The rebel chiefs in Cambodia are one by one giving in their submission to the French, and tranquility is gradually being restored in the country.

The French transport Nive, which left Toulon

on the 27th July, arrived at Saigon on the 22nd August, with civil and military passengers. On her voyage out she touched only at Port Said and at Obook. The Saigennais records a curious accident attended with fatal results which occurred in the village of Nhou-loa. Four Annumites were having a cocklight under the versudah of a house.

While the combat was in progress one of the birds flew at a child seven years old and inflicted a deep wound in the abdomen, from which the child died. From the Saigonnais we learn that, since the is threatened between the builders of the line and the local administration.

The Saigennais of the 23rd August says the massacres in the southern provinces of Annam continue. The agitation has apread like a powder train and everywhere the houses of the Christians are broken into, pillaged, and burnt. The is, to the English public, at all events, the more literationd mandarins of all ranks, who for several months past, as agents of the Court, have been raising men and secretly fomenting rebellion, have now thrown off the mask and are themselves openly directing the insurrectionary movement. All who have attached themselves in anyway to the French cause are hunted down, ruined, and slaughtered. Those who escape death wander miserably in the forests like wild beasts. The Christians especially are the objects of the most ferocious hatred, and more than ten thousand of them have perished, paying with their blood for the mistakes France has committed in Annam and Tonquin.

All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinary, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advince of foreign relations has imposed upon them are here given in estense. Each and svery word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti promunciations are given the accents being exercilly marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with these wast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charmeterized Chinese publications. To the illustrate the vast scope of the work following facts are submitted for consideration:—Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different works which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work is so complete, that a reference to its spages enables a person who understands English to communicate affectively with na	Cl TO C Por day to be made by persons localities, at work for us.
